entitled :

“Alfred the Great”

(Showing the first elements of Scouting in the olden days. King Alfred is depicted as the ideal Scout, cheerful in adversity, generous in victory—ever ready and prepared. Through his foresight the British Navy has become what it is to-day, while the rapid advance of education and the sound progress of national laws, were not the least among his many acts of wisdom).

- Act 1. Scene 1. Alfred's Childhood. King Ethelwulf's Palace
- Act 2. Scene 1. Twenty-four years later. King Alfred's Palace
- Scene 2. Some days later. Moorland
- Act. 3. Scene 1. Spring, 878 Neatherd's Hut
- Scene 2. After Easter, 878 Alfred's Stronghold
- Scene 3. Whitsuntide, 878 Battlefield of Ethandune
